

INTERACTIVE EXPERIENCE OF SUSTAINABILITY - ONE CHECK IN A NEW PLANTED TREE

Chepu Adventures began as a project of life to live in balance with nature, in a friendly and sustainable way, using only natural and renewable resources such as rain, water and electricity provided daily by the wind and the sun.

Living in a sustainable way seems easy, but it is not so simple as though the wind, sun and rain are free and unlimited, natural resources are not always available when we need them, so it is very important to manage them properly and this have been learned through our experience since 2002.

Our guests have shown us to be very interested and committed to live an eco experience. To make this possible is relevant to know their daily consumption information, for which we show them their real consumption and its ECO-limits (maximum daily amount per person that should be used of water and energy).

Interactive ECO experience: our guest will have available a screen with information and advice, where they can see their actual consumption in real time, as well as the maximum consumption expected to stay within the ECO-limits.

At the end of your stay, if the passenger has remained within the ECO-limits and low rates of consumption will be rewarded by Chepu Adventures Ecolodge planting a new tree in Patagonia.

Thank you for choosing a sustainable stay!
